CAJON HIGH HOSTS COLLEGE NIGHT ON SEPTEMBER 27

San Bernardino and Highland Students and Their Parents/Guardians Invited to Attend

Does your son know what college he wants to attend? Does your daughter know the California State University admissions requirements? Do you need financial aid to help pay for your child's college education?

The San Bernardino City Unified School District's annual College Night can help you and your child answer these and other college-related questions on Thursday, September 27 at Cajon High School.

From 6 to 8 p.m., college representatives will provide information about local and out-of-state colleges and trade schools, including the University of California and California State University systems; Humboldt State University; Point Loma Nazarene University; ITT Technical; Grambling State University; and more.

Parents/guardians and students are also invited to attend workshops on how to apply for financial aid and scholarships.

College Night is just one of the ways San Bernardino City Unified School District makes it possible for students to pursue higher education.

Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps (JROTC) programs help prepare students for possible admission to a military academy. Air Force JROTC is offered at San Bernardino High School, and Arroyo Valley High School offers its award-winning Army JROTC program.

High school counselors and the District's Communications/Community Relations Department coordinate with the non-profit San Bernardino Community Scholarship Association to provide college scholarships to District graduates.

For more information about College Night, contact Cajon High at (909) 881-8120. To enroll in JROTC programs, contact your high school counselor. For information about the Community Scholarship Association, visit www.sbcusd.com/sbcsa.
